

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

This is the second in a series on the AAA. A Merry-Go-Rounder got an AAA job. In his first article he reported on the "efficiency" of the famed night shift.

AAA Nightshift Scenes of Pathos, Laziness, Waste

WASHINGTON—There is only one class of workers on the AAA night shift which does not sleep a good part of the night. This is the Civil Service group, most of them elderly ladies who have spent their lives working for the Government.

But even they, having not nearly enough work to do, spend a good part of their time chatting or reading books.

The one exception to this rule is a little old lady whose waking moments are so rare as to cause comment. For some reason, never properly explained, she is nicknamed after the First Lady of the Land. And on those occasions when she does rub her eyes and look around, someone is sure to nudge someone else and with an air of surprise exclaim:

"Mrs. Roosevelt's awake now." Between the Civil Service workers and practically everyone else on the AAA night shift there is open bitter rivalry. This is especially true of the home-town politicians who have come to Washington to make a name for themselves.

Pathos

Most of them are middle-aged, bald-headed old fashioned fellows wearing heavy watch chains, celluloid collars, clothes that are much too hot for Washington summers, and who try to look important but actually appear pathetically timid.

Arriving in Washington armed with letters from the home-town political bosses, they expect to get a foreign legation or at least land a commission on the Federal Trade Commission; instead they are shoved off on the night shift of the AAA at $1,440 a year with the promise: "Just take this temporary job until we can find something better."

Most of them would do more work if they could, and make overtures to the Civil Service workers to teach them the ropes. But the latter knowing that their only salvation is the ignorance of their colleagues, are as communicative as Chesapeake oysters.

The Civil Service workers come chiefly from Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia, but despite their much higher efficiency they are being weeded out rapidly. Most dismissals are given without the required thirty day notice.

Another clique unto itself is made up of college boys, most of them going to George Washington, Georgetown or any of the other half dozen universities in the capital, who keep themselves awake flirting with pretty girls or studying. They set the high-water mark for inefficiency. Some have allowances from home, which together with their government pay, permits them to drive to work in their own roadsters.

One night three of them were arrested in an automobile mix-up when supposed to be on duty at the AAA.

Indifference

The final AAA clique consists of former Census Bureau workers, who know all the routine of punch cards, tabulating machines, and sorting machines which reduce human labor to minimum. Because of this many of them have been elevated to the exalted rank of assistant supervisors, at $2,000 a year thereby earning the right to strut around the room, lean on the desks of pretty girls, talk learnedly with the supervisor and in general display an exaggerated ego.

The most amazing thing about these assistant supervisors is their callousness regarding mistakes. Frequent errors are made by the tabulating machines in calculating the amounts of money due to farmers. One mistake of $50, called to the attention of an assistant supervisor, brought the reply: "We're not supposed to get

4 DEVELOPMENTS IN POLITICAL RACE SEEN

Report Dunlap in Congressional Contest, Mrs. Lutz After Recorder's Job, and Short Running for Auditor; Bohnert to Remain Out of Politics, Friends Declare.

With only eight days remaining for candidates to file their nominating petitions, the Pickaway-co political field is becoming quite crowded. More activity was reported today than in a long while with the following developments:

"King's" Henchman

This genial gentleman apparently believes in what he preaches—if the smile counts for anything. He is the Rev. Gerald K. Smith, former Shreveport, La., pastor, who is chief organizer for Senator Huey Long's "Share-the-Wealth" Clubs, the aim of which is the equal distribution of wealth.

YOUTHS SLAIN IN HILL FEUD

Kentucky Scene of Bloody Battle; Third Dying in Clan Warfare.

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., June 7.—Smouldering feud feeling broke out between two families gathered in a clearing on a mountain top in the remote Brown Branch neighborhood 19 miles from here and when the flareup was ended two youths lay dead and another dying.

Eighteen from the Brown and the Gray families fought in the furious clan battle, according to meagre reports reaching here today. Guns, knives and fists were used by the mountaineers.

Obie Brown was stabbed to death and Lester Gray was fatally shot. Another Brown was reported dying from knife wounds. All three were under 20 years old, it was reported.

Thirteen of the warring factions were taken into custody for questioning and a probable appearance before the grand jury here.

DOCTOR HOPEFUL FOR FIVE BABIES

More Optimistic of Their Surviving as Tenth Day Passes; Chance Still Small.

CALLANDER, Ontario, June 7.—The quintuplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Olivia Dionne were 10 days old this morning at four o'clock.

The little infants whose lives have been despaired of day after day during their 240-hours of struggle were reported to be showing visible improvement by Dr. A. R. Dafoe who has astounded the civilized medical world by keeping the children alive.

At midnight, Dr. Dafoe after visiting the children in their humble quarters two and one-half miles east of here declared: "The kids are doing 'danged' well."

"They shouldn't be living at all but they are living and are improving."

The doctor's statement was the most optimistic one he has made since their birth 10 days ago. In fact where the doctor has refused to give the babies more than a 500 to 1 chance to live, last night he said: "Maybe they will live... maybe. They still have a long way to go but we are trying everything we can to keep life in their little bodies."

TRAIL OF NAPOLEON ROBBER DISAPPEARS

NAPOLEON, June 7.—Officials throughout this section of the state continued on the lookout today for the three bank robbers who raided the Commercial Savings Bank here and fled with loot of $1,300.

The bandits made their getaway in an automobile which was carrying stolen license plates. County authorities made an attempt to pursue the robbers, but lost their trail after a short chase.

COUNCIL LAUDS CASH REPORTS

Hospital Report For Month of May Sets Record; Mayor's Business Good.

PLAN LIGHT ACTION

Odors From Hargus Creek May Be Righted.

Increased finances in two branches of the city government, Berger hospital and the mayor's office, received commendatory statements from council members Wednesday evening when that body held its first meeting in June.

The hospital reported collections during the month totalling $1,737.37 the largest since the institution opened for business. Miss Ethel Kirchofer, superintendent, attributed the large sum to several bills being paid through the Ohio Industrial commission.

This amount turned into the city treasury is believed several hundred dollars greater than in any other months in the hospital's existence.

$103.70 FROM CADY

President of Council John C. Goeller commended the report of Mayor W. B. Cady that he collected $103.80 during May. Of this amount $81 was in fines, $14 in licenses and $8.70 in fees.

The largest part of the fine money was the result of arrest of traffic violators, the mayor said. No business of great importance was transacted at the meeting although numerous items of more than passing interest were legislated.

Council recommended the traffic light at Court and Main-sts be burned 24 hours daily after Mayor Cady requested this action be done since there have been several accidents at the busy intersection, after the light has been turned off at midnight. It will be necessary

Rough Treatment of Two Women in Columbus Man's Car Told Jury

HITS MILLER AIDES

Civil Actions Brought Against Officers

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Details of how a constable and two aides conducted a midnight raid on an automobile in a lonely road, allegedly dragging two women from the car by force, were being unfolded before a Franklin-co criminal court jury of nine men and three women today.

On trial were Constable C. B. Moore, and his two aides, Morris Hanna and Erton Temple. They were charged with "injuring, defrauding and oppressing under color of office."

Complaining witnesses were Stad Bescher, his attractive wife, Clara, and a pretty blonde, Miss Louise Keys. Bescher from the witness stand alleged that the men stopped his car which was moving slowly and dragged his wife and Miss Keys from the car.

COSTS OVER $19

The officers also used profane language, he said. Bescher related that he was arraigned in a justice of the peace court at Shadeville, south of here, at daybreak and assessed costs of more than $19.

A number of local persons have had experience in the court of the honorable Mr. Miller and his constables. One has reported a fine of $1 and costs of over $19. Several have been arrested when the veracity of charges was extremely doubtful.

Using as a topic "The Reformation of Inferior Courts" he gave the complete history of the origin of the Justice of Peace courts and explained the present operations, particularly in the metropolitan centers. MAN SHOT IN NORWOOD RIOT

Extra Guards Assigned To Remington-Rand Plant As New Danger Is Seen.

CINCINNATI, June 7.—Extra guards were posted around the strike-torn Norwood plant of the Remington-Rand company today after an outbreak of rioting yesterday in which one man was shot and at least two other persons injured.

Every precaution was being taken by deputy sheriffs and Norwood police to prevent serious, prolonged rioting.

It was the second time in the past month that strikes at Ohio industrial plants have been marked by shootings. At Toledo, two men were shot and killed and others wounded in rioting at the Electric Auto-Lite plant two weeks ago.

MAN, 28, INJURED

Warren Maxwell 28, was shot down in the latest outbreak at the Remington-Rand plant. Two persons were stoned by the angry mob of 400 then gathered at the plant when 325 workers left the shops.

Maxwell was shot in the leg. His condition is not serious. McCarell Conrad, a foreman at the plant, admitted the shooting, declaring that he fired two shots into the air and then one into the crowd when it surged toward him. He was charged with shooting with intent to wound and released under $200 bond.

According to authorities, the Remington-Rand plant will close at noon today to forestall renewed outbreaks of violence. Two automobiles also were stoned and seriously damaged yesterday but the occupants escaped without hurts.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbar, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may wreck you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS... a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McBurn Co.

FLETCHER TO HEAD REPUBLICAN FORCES

CHICAGO, June 7.—Henry P. Fletcher, Pennsylvania diplomat, embarked today on uncharted seas in an effort to bring back prestige lost by his Republican party.

Fletcher, nominated by Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Pennsylvania, received 67 votes of the 92 cast. John D. M. Hamilton, committeeman from Kansas, received 25 votes. Hamilton, the only other nominee, immediately moved to make Fletcher's selection unanimous.

HENRY P. FLETCHER

WASHINGTON, June 7.—"A fine selection, but I wish it had been someone from further west."

That was the comment today of Senator Simon Fess (R) of Ohio, on the selection of Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, as Chairman and Chief spokesman for the Republican party.

Senator Reed worked with the Charles D. Hilles sub-committee in drafting the declaration of principles, and the Pennsylvania platform and later the Pennsylvania candidate for chairman was ratified by the committee.

Some solace was accorded the west by the naming of Phil W. Collins, legionnaire of Illinois, and Hamilton to important posts in the national committee. Hamilton was given the post of party counsel left vacant by the death of James F. Burke of Pennsylvania. Collins is likely to be named to a new position, "director of organization."

There was practically no opposition to the appointment of Chairman Fletcher, who served under Theodore Roosevelt in the rough riders and who served on foreign missions under President Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. Fletcher was considered satisfactory to the so-called Hoover bloc and the committee wired its greetings to the former president.

The G. O. P. pronouncement, drafted by the easterners but approved by all sections, declares that the Republican party is liberal, but it makes it clear that it is not radical.

WHAT the STARSSAY

Your opportunity for personal astrologic advice by R. Frederic Kane.

In just exactly 26,000 years the planets will again be in the same relative positions as they are at this moment. That being the case, how can you expect to receive any benefit from astrology unless you have a horoscope cast for the exact moment of your birth? To give astrologic information and advice from no better birth date than that of the day of the month on which you were born, is in the opinion of this writer, hardly a less crime than that of obtaining money under false pretense.

No scientific and honest astrologer would ever read the horoscope of two persons the same way although they had been born on the same day as near as two hours apart. If you want real help from astrology you must by all means have a horoscope cast for the moment of your birth.

Very few persons know the exact moment of their birth, some do not even know the right date of their birth but if they are sure of the date they can rest assured that a real astrologer can by certain methods of calculation and checking, ascertain the exact moment when birth occurred or at least the normal period for the day. If you are not certain of the exact moment of birth give the astrologer the dates of important events in your life, such as deaths in the family or accidents to yourself. When he has found a time which will check up with the events in the past he will be able to tell you when future events are likely to occur. Never ask an astrologer foolish questions. If you are not serious do not bother him. It is only the serious affairs of life which are plainly indicated in your horoscope.

If you have something of a serious nature—a problem which you would like help on at this time, send your question with the price of six months subscription to The Herald office and you will receive in addition to the daily delivery of The Herald to your home, the answer to your question absolutely free.

Sunday Schools Gather June 15

The sixty-seventh annual convention of the Pickaway-co Sunday schools and the second Youth's Conference will be held in the First Presbyterian church Friday, June 15.

PLYMOUTH REDUCES
DETROIT, June 7.—Price reductions up to $45 on Plymouth cars were announced here today by B. E. Hutchinson, chairman of the Board of the Plymouth Motor Corporation.

The new price structure now gives Plymouth a base price of $485 at the factory. Plymouth is now $20 to $40 lower in price than comparable models of any other car with so-called knee type, or individual springs.

"Our record production for this year makes it possible for us to offer these low prices," Mr. Hutchinson stated, in announcing the reduction. "During the first four months of this year Plymouth production was more than two and one-half times as many cars as in the same period last year. Our last week's sales reports show a gain in retail sales of 26.5 per cent over the same period of a year ago."

In addition to the convention and conference there will be a banquet for young people at the church at 5:30 p. m.

Prof. Harold J. Bowers, superintendent of the Williamsport school, will act as toastmaster at the banquet.

A number of widely known speakers have been obtained for the convention.

A musical program has also been arranged. The evening feature will be a dramatic play "Race Prejudice."

Beautiful silk flags will be awarded the schools from the county and the city sending the largest delegation to the convention.

It will be worth while for every one who can attend the convention and conference.

McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors

Operate Perfectly on NO. 1 FURNACE DISTILLATE

INVESTIGATION shows that the widely known oil companies now market a No. 1 Furnace Distillate which makes a very satisfactory fuel for McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors. The use of this clean, low-priced fuel results in a considerable saving over the cost of kerosene.

However, it is well to remember that No. 1 Furnace Distillate is only one of a number of grades of furnace oil on the market. The tractor owner who buys furnace oil haphazardly runs the chance of getting a poorer grade, which does not measure up to No. 1 standards. For your information and guidance, specifications of a No. 1 Furnace Distillate suitable for use in McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors are included in this advertisement.

Tests prove that the number of cylinders or the type of engine used in a tractor have nothing at all to do with the success or failure of furnace distillate as a tractor fuel. Experience shows, however, that multi-cylinder engines produce a smooth flow of flexible power that lengthens tractor life, improves traction, and reduces driver fatigue. Think over these facts when you need a new tractor. McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors have modern 4-cylinder, valve-in-head engines of the most efficient vertical type.

No. 1 Furnace Distillate should measure Up to These Specifications:

Specific gravity, maximum .35 at 60 degrees F.
Flash . . . 165 degrees F. maximum.
10 per cent distilled off at 420 degrees F. maximum.
90 per cent distilled off at 560 degrees F.
End point not to exceed 600 degrees F.
Water and sediment not to exceed 0.05 per cent.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Entered at Postoffice at Circleville as Second Class Matter.

Easing the Burden

BUSINESS is the principal beneficiary under the decision of congress and the postoffice department not to continue after July 1 the higher scale of postal rates for advertising matter which went into effect two years ago. Nor is it likely that the postoffice budget will suffer.

This rate increase, which ranged from 1-2 to 3 cents per pound, has been an unnecessary burden on business at a time when business could ill afford to carry even necessary burdens. While direct-mail advertising is in a sense a competitor of newspaper advertising the newspapers have opposed the taxing out of business of the direct mail advertiser. That which hurts one business hurts all business.

Now that congress and the postoffice administration have taken a step in the right direction and established another precedent they should go the whole way and bring back the 2-cent rate for first-class mail. The 3-cent rate has virtually driven the direct-mail advertiser out of this class of mail users, with untold loss of revenue to the postoffice and great injury to business in general.

In little ways such as these the national government can speed the return of normal business conditions. They put the little fellow back in business on a paying basis and it is through him that big business must look for the restoration of normal buying power. A postal system within the reach of all is more important than a balanced postal budget.

An unnatural phenomena is the way gasoline prices raise with the thermometer.

Right to Grow Beards

THE United States courts are going in for beards this season but in a judicial way rather than for personal adornment. A district court has decided that anybody's baseball team can wear beards if they can raise them but that only one bearded nine can call itself the "House of David Ball Club."

For a number of years the "House of David" nine has been a good box office attraction wherever it has signed up games. In some sections of the country it introduced night ball, carrying its own floodlight equipment. Imitators were inevitable.

One smart promoter or his smart lawyer conceived the idea that because the famous bearded nine does not recruit all its players from the religious community at Eton or Harrow, Mich., it holds no monopoly of the name "House of David."

Fortunate indeed is it that the court had presence of mind enough to reaffirm the legal principle that the right to grow a beard is inalienable even among baseball players. In the case just decided the court might have slipped into the error of leaving that important point of law undecided and a potential cause for litigation.

"I TAKE THIS WOMAN"

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

He sat opposite her now, a small, nervously energetic man, with crisp gray hair and a keen, penetrating blue eyes that smiled at her from behind silver-rimmed glasses.

"I wonder if your husband has ever mentioned the fact that I have asked him to take a short trip abroad with me?" He sat back in his chair and asked the question quietly.

"Why, no," she answered, "he certainly never has."

"I thought not," Maynard continued to smile at her. Then he went on speaking in the clear, concise voice, which he had cultivated years before and which had proved very useful to him ever since:

"I've been urging your husband to take this trip with me for two weeks, Mrs. Northrup, and he has proved as obstinate as the proverbial mule. Now I'm depending on you to convince him that it's the sensible thing to do. I have to make a flying trip to London and I'm going to run down to Italy—I'll only be gone a matter of about six weeks and the trip is just what he needs. He's looking badly, not fit at all. The salt air will do him no end of good. I don't mind telling you that I have no desire to lose a successful young author on the very eve of discovery, so to speak. I consider it good business for him to go across at this time."

He paused a second, then continued with a sudden quick, disarming grin: "All this is a bit beside the point, Mrs. Northrup. To be quite honest with you, I am more than ordinarily attached to this young man of yours. I'll get a perfectly selfish but genuine delight out of his company. I'm a rather lonely individual, I'm afraid, and it's not often that people attract me. I'm going to be tremendously disappointed if you cannot convince your husband that he ought to go with me. He has some crazy idea that he can't afford the trip and that he ought not to leave you—I think you will see it differently."

"I certainly do, Mr. Maynard." "Then I can plan on his going?" "Absolutely," Stanley's eyes were shining with excitement. No one knew better than she how much such a trip would mean to John Harmon. And he had never even mentioned it to her—no one but John Harmon could ever have been so beautifully foolish!

"That's fine, Mrs. Northrup. I'll bring him back a different man! We'll see a week from Tuesday."

"I don't know how to thank you."

"You don't have to, my dear. It's I who am indebted to you, for loaning me your charming husband."

He walked to the door with her and took her hand to say good-bye. "I'm expecting great things from him, this novel has brought out qualities that make for real writing. He always had a sympathetic understanding of situations, now he has a sympathetic understanding of people; and it's people, my dear, that make novels, just as it's people that make life."

It was not until they had had their supper and were sitting quietly in the lamplight that Stanley mentioned her visit to Maynard's office. She approached it casually.

"I saw Maynard this afternoon, John Harmon."

"You did. Where?"

"At his office."

"Oh, how did that happen?" He looked at her curiously.

"He sent for me, about your going abroad with him."

John Harmon stiffened suddenly.

"That was a little unnecessary, seems to me, I thought we'd settled that."

"As it happens, you hadn't, but I have."

"Just what do you mean, Stan?"

"Nothing much—except that you are going, of course."

"And that's where you are entirely wrong, my dear—I am not!"

And to add emphasis to his remark, John Harmon tossed his cigarette into the empty grate, plunged his hands into his pockets and stared at her defiantly, with eyes which had grown more intent than ever during the last few weeks.

"I'm sorry, dear, I gave him my word," Stanley was quite unimpressed by his firmness.

"He had no business dragging you into it."

"If you weren't so run down and irritable you'd never be capable of such ingratitude."

"But darn it all, Stanley, don't you see, I can't run off and leave you here in this place—it'll be hot as blazes in another ten days. Besides, we've got some money right now, but how long will it last? I haven't done a thing since I finished 'Gloria'—it doesn't look as if I ever would."

"That's exactly why you've got to go—you're not yourself. You can't afford to drag along like this. You've got to get your strength back. You know perfectly well what an hour at the typewriter does to you!"

"I know, all right," John Harmon buried his face in his hands—in his thin, clever hands that were so fearfully white and unsteady.

"But darn it all, Stanley, leaving the expense out of it, I can't go off and leave you alone—just when we had planned to go away together."

Stanley was sitting on a low stool at his feet, and there was something in his voice, something husky and rough, which made her look up at him swiftly. He was staring at her in the firelight, and her heart rocked suddenly and painfully against her side at what she saw in his eyes in the moment before he dragged them away. It was as if for that brief, shattering second he had let her see straight into the soul of him and know for once the tremendous way in which he wanted her, needed her.

"You see, Stanley," he reached for her hands, held them lightly, his betraying eyes on their white slenderness, "we've never had a—honey-moon. I thought that perhaps we could—now. Look at me, darling."

She looked up at him slowly, and then with a little sob, she was on her knees beside him, his face held tightly against her breast, her voice tumbling unsteadily against the rumpled brownness of his head. "I do want to go away with you, darling—and we will—when you come back. But we can wait, and this trip won't."

"But, Stanley, I don't want to wait—I've waited so long. I want to go with you, now."

Stanley's hands held his head closer to her heart, her fingers caressed his hair, but her voice became steady and sweetly reasonable. "And I want you, too, but you mustn't. You must go with Maynard, darling. It's going to do you a lot of good in all sorts of ways. I can get Valerie to stay with me—it will only be for a few weeks anyhow."

"Weeks can be darned long, Stanley."

But in the end he agreed to go. Perry took them to the pier on the afternoon John Harmon's boat sailed and left them alone in his stateroom to say goodbye to each other.

And quite suddenly, it was John Harmon who was brave and matter-of-fact and Stanley who forgot to smile and went into his arms with a shaken, little sob. "Don't go, John Harmon, don't leave me—I'm afraid."

He rubbed his chin against her cheek and held her quietly. "You'll be all right, honey, and in six weeks I'll be back and we can go away together."

"But so much can happen in six weeks, John Harmon—I'm afraid!"

John Harmon pressed her face against his shoulder. He didn't want her to see his face just then—the torment in his eyes, the pain that twisted his mouth. "I know, dear, that's a chance we take—a chance we've always taken."

"Time's up!" shouted Perry from the passageway. "We've got to run, Stan."

He led her off the boat and stood beside her, while she waved a damp little handkerchief at the rapidly diminishing speck that was John Harmon. Then he took her firmly by the arm and piloted her to his car.

"I'm an awful darn fool, Perry," she told him tremulously, sliding down in a little heap against the blue leather cushions. "I think I'm going to cry."

"Go ahead, darling," Perry urged her cheerfully. "Keep your head down and in that hat no one will know the difference."

"Good heavens, Perry," she gasped faintly, somewhere between laughter and tears, "anyone would think you made a habit of driving weeping women about the streets of New York, you're so casual about it."

"I wouldn't call it a habit exactly, but it has happened before," Perry admitted cheerfully. "What do you say to going somewhere to tea? What do you say to going up to Dennis? She won't have any tea but she'll have some darn good cocktails—Dennis is a very remarkable girl."

"I don't feel like tea—or cocktails—or Dennis."

"No. What you feel like is going home and burying your head in a pillow and having a nice, comfortable cry. But I'm not going to let you do it. Your eyes would get red and your nose would look worse, and anyhow it's five o'clock and I feel the need of a party."

"Have it your own way, I'll probably cry later, anyhow," Stanley shrugged resignedly.

"Darlin', never worry about what may happen—it's almost never does."

"I wish I could believe that," Perry, Stanley began in a curiously troubled voice, but Perry was busy dodging traffic and didn't hear her.

Tea at Dennis's was always gaily informal affair with no tea in sight, plenty of gin and vermouth, and anchovy paste sandwiches. Dennis lived in a charming and wholly haphazard way on the top floor of an apartment house in Luxor City. She had a studio, bare and uncluttered, where she worked from ten until three, and a long deep living room, with many windows facing the river, where she spent the rest of her time when she was at home.

Today it was filled with a dozen or so people, all talking at once, all gaily impervious to any interruption. At the extreme end of the room, an indolent young man was sipping a cocktail and carefully considering the effect that Dennis was achieving, dressed in topaz velvet, her bronze head tilted back against a piece of old Chinese brocade.

"You might use a pose like that for those new illustrations," he decided, frowning a bit. "Have you read the manuscript yet?"

"No, I'm going to. This afternoon."

"Sure you'll have them ready in time?"

"Don't I usually?"

"Yes, that's the amazing thing about you, Dennis—you're so inconsistently business-like."

"I've found it pays."

"I suppose so—never could be that way myself, though."

"No. You're too lazy. If you didn't have to write to live—you would never finish a story."

"Tedious—finishing anything. But as you say, one has to live."

"And eat—apparently, I positively never have any food left after one of these raids."

Spleen Not Essential To Life

Its Removal Often of Benefit in Certain Blood Afflictions

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City

FOR MANY years little was known about the spleen and the nature of its disorders. It was looked upon as a vital organ and generally believed that the human body could not function without it.

We have found out that the spleen is closely associated with the manufacture of red blood cells and the coloring matter of the blood. Its action is related to digestion. But it is now known that life can continue without this structure.

Some surgeons advise the removal of the spleen in certain blood disorders. For example, this operation may be called for in a disease known as "purpura hemorrhagica". In this affliction the victim suffers from severe and sudden hemorrhages. These follow a very slight fall or blow, and yet may be so severe as to prove fatal.

Removal of the spleen is of great benefit to many a sufferer from purpura hemorrhagica. Afterward there are no longer severe and unexpected attacks of bleeding and the patient is able to lead a useful and happy life. Unfortunately, not all cases of purpura hemorrhagica are entirely cured by "splenectomy", which is the name given the operation.

"Gaucher's disease" is another affliction benefited by the removal of the spleen. This is an anemic disturbance characterized by a yellowish discoloration of the skin and eyeballs. As a rule, the spleen and liver are enlarged and the victim suffers from severe bleeding from the gums, lungs and intestinal tract.

It is believed to be a hereditary disease, repeatedly occurring in certain families. This slow and insidious disease is more common among men than women. It generally begins in childhood but attracts no attention until the victim is between twenty-five and forty years of age.

It is only when splenectomy is performed that any relief or cure can be offered in this disease. With the removal of the spleen the anemia improves, and the patient improves. Though the disease is a rare one, we are indebted to those scientists who made available this method of cure.

Enlargement of Spleen

Banti's disease, or splenic anemia, is another ailment of the spleen that is curable by removal of the spleen. This disease is characterized by an unusual enlargement of the spleen. Ordinarily it is met in childhood but may be found in adults.

Children afflicted with this disease are subject to repeated nose bleeds. They complain of poor appetite, constipation and other digestive disturbances. Upon examination, the spleen is found to be enlarged and sometimes the liver is also enlarged.

When recognized in its early stages, cure can be obtained by removal of the spleen. In more advanced cases, where the liver is involved and other changes have taken place, the operation may not be beneficial. The physician who has followed the case and is familiar with the physical condition of the patient will be able to determine the advisability of operation.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Two women vie for George Bancroft's affections in "Blood Money," his new picture which comes Friday and Saturday to the Cliftona Theatre.

The two actresses are Judith Anderson, New York stage star, and pretty Frances Dee, charming ingenue in Hollywood.

Heretofore in his pictures Bancroft has had to battle for his women, but in "Blood Money" he enjoys the novel experience of having two personable young ladies "go for him."

Strangely enough, Bancroft is so enraged at the devious machinations of both women that blood lust dims his eyes and thoughts of murder flit across his expressive face whenever he considers them.

With Bancroft double-crossed by both women, there are some highly dramatic twists for jaded theatre-goers in "Blood Money," which is Bancroft's first picture under his new contract with 20th Century Pictures.

Naish, who has been breaking the law as a crook and gangster in a ruthless manner since he entered films, enacts a confidential agent in "Sleepers East," Fox film now at the Grand Theatre. Wynne Gibson and Harvey Stephens are featured. Naish's last previous hard-boiled gangster role was in "The Mad Game" in which he played a racketeering gang leader.

SCA OUTLOOK FOR CROPS IN DROUGHT

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Farming observers speculated today on this question—

What effect will the government's crop reduction program have on agricultural production in Ohio this year, now that the drought—something that wasn't reckoned with when the government launched its program, designed to bring production nearer the domestic consumption figure—has entered into the picture.

No estimates are available as yet, but agricultural experts are pretty well agreed that the production depends upon whether or not the present drought continues. The next few weeks will tell the story, they say.

CUT PRODUCTION

"When the government started out in its program of reducing production in the leading crops—wheat, corn, tobacco, hogs, and sugar beets in northwestern Ohio, it hoped to bring production to the consumption basis," said Professor H. C. Ramsower, head of the Agricultural Extension Service at Ohio State University.

"Now, if the drought continues, production will be further reduced, perhaps to a much lower figure than the department of agriculture expected.

"There always is a large carry-over in wheat," he said. "But that is not true of the other major crops. In wheat, we could stand a serious reduction and still have enough."

Ramsower raised the question as to what effect a further reduction will have upon prices of farm goods.

"Normally, prices go up as production goes down, but then too, prices react in conformity to consumption demand," he stated. "There is no way of predicting now what effect further crop reduction would have on the ultimate price to the consumer."

Lack of rainfall has had a very damaging effect upon wheat and grass, on oats sowed this spring, and has interfered seriously with the farmer's attempt to plant corn, Ramsower said. July rainfall is generally considered to be the chief factor in the corn crop, he said, and it is likely that the rainfall during the next month will determine more than anything else Ohio's crop prospects for 1934.

REDUCTION CITED

The various phases of the crop reduction program in Ohio have cut down wheat production (the spring harvest) about five per cent; corn, 20 per cent; hogs, 25 per cent; and cigar leaf tobacco, 40 per cent, he estimated.

Questions and Answers

What is the proper temperature for roasting meats? Should the oven be hot or should it allow the meat to cook more slowly?

When a browned appearance is desired on the outer surfaces of the meat, it is practically necessary to sear the meat at a temperature of 500 degrees before timing it for roasting. After searing for 15 to 20 minutes, the beef should be timed 18 minutes per pound for a rare roast, 22 minutes a pound done medium, and 30 minutes per pound well done.

How can you select good pineapple that is not woody or green?

Pineapples are grown in warm countries and are picked and shipped before they are fully ripened. Buy the ripest fruit available, to obtain the sweetest variety, with richer flavor. The ripe fruit is less acid and much less woody. It is orange in color rather than green. The center leaves can be pulled out easily if given a slight twist. The ripe fruit has a delightful fragrance that the greener fruit does not possess. A medium sized pineapple will yield about 3 cups of cubed fruit. The yield will vary depending on the thickness of the parings and the size of the cubes.

What is a good base for a frozen fruit salad? Are some fruits better than others for this purpose?

A good base for a frozen fruit salad is made of mayonnaise, whipped cream and marshmallows. The proportion commonly used is 12 marshmallows, 1 cup whipping cream (1/2 pt.) and 1/2 cup mayonnaise with 4 cups of fruit. White cherries, oranges, pineapple and peaches make an attractive and delightful combination to use for a frozen salad.

Hints For Lunch Packers

Nearly everybody has joined the ranks of the lunch packers, whether it is for a picnic of leisurely relaxation or for something to break the fast at daily work or school. Remembering some of these rules may suggest easier and more tasty methods of packing the lunch.

Keep the flavors separated as much as possible. Use waxed paper, cups or small glass jars to keep the foods covered. It is a good idea to have the lunch box lined with fresh waxed paper each time it is used. Beverages and soups should be packed hot or cold, as they are to be served, in a vacuum container. Mixed fresh fruits, fruit sauces, custards or other summer foods should be carried in glass jars with lids.

Prevent the food from being crushed. Appearance of food has much to do with its appetite appeal. Ask yourself, as you pack the food, "How will it look when the box is opened?" Place heavy articles at the bottom with the light ones on top, right side up.

Use canned or packaged foods whenever possible to save mess and inconvenience. Keep such necessities as sugar, salt and pepper always in the box. Remember the neatly folded napkin of paper put in the last thing, ready to take out first, when it is needed.

When planning a menu to serve one person or a number, have the lunch neatly packed and select color combinations that are pleasing. Cooked tomatoes and raw tomatoes on the same lunch would never do, nor would potato salad and potato chips be interesting on the same day. It takes contrast in flavor as well as harmony in flavors to make food combinations appetizing.

WELL AT HOSPITAL?

A request of Safety Director L. T. Shaner that a well be drilled at Berger hospital since so much water is needed to properly care for the nearly-completed landscaping job was referred to the hospital committee.

Solicitor Carl C. Leist had already written Watson A. Dark, Ohio Water Service Co. executive, asking a reduced rate since much water is used there and Mr. Dark replied he would investigate.

Into the hands of the board of health, the health committee of council and William Justice, service director, who is also health officer, was placed the matter of cleaning up nauseating odors in Hargus creek believed caused by refuse from the Pickaway Dairy Co. Numerous complaints have been made of the odors. The matter was broached in council by Mayor Cady.

Safety Director Shaner requested council to grant permission to sell the motorcycle the police department has owned since 1927. He said $75 can be obtained for the vehicle. This matter was referred to Mr. Shaner and Solicitor Leist.

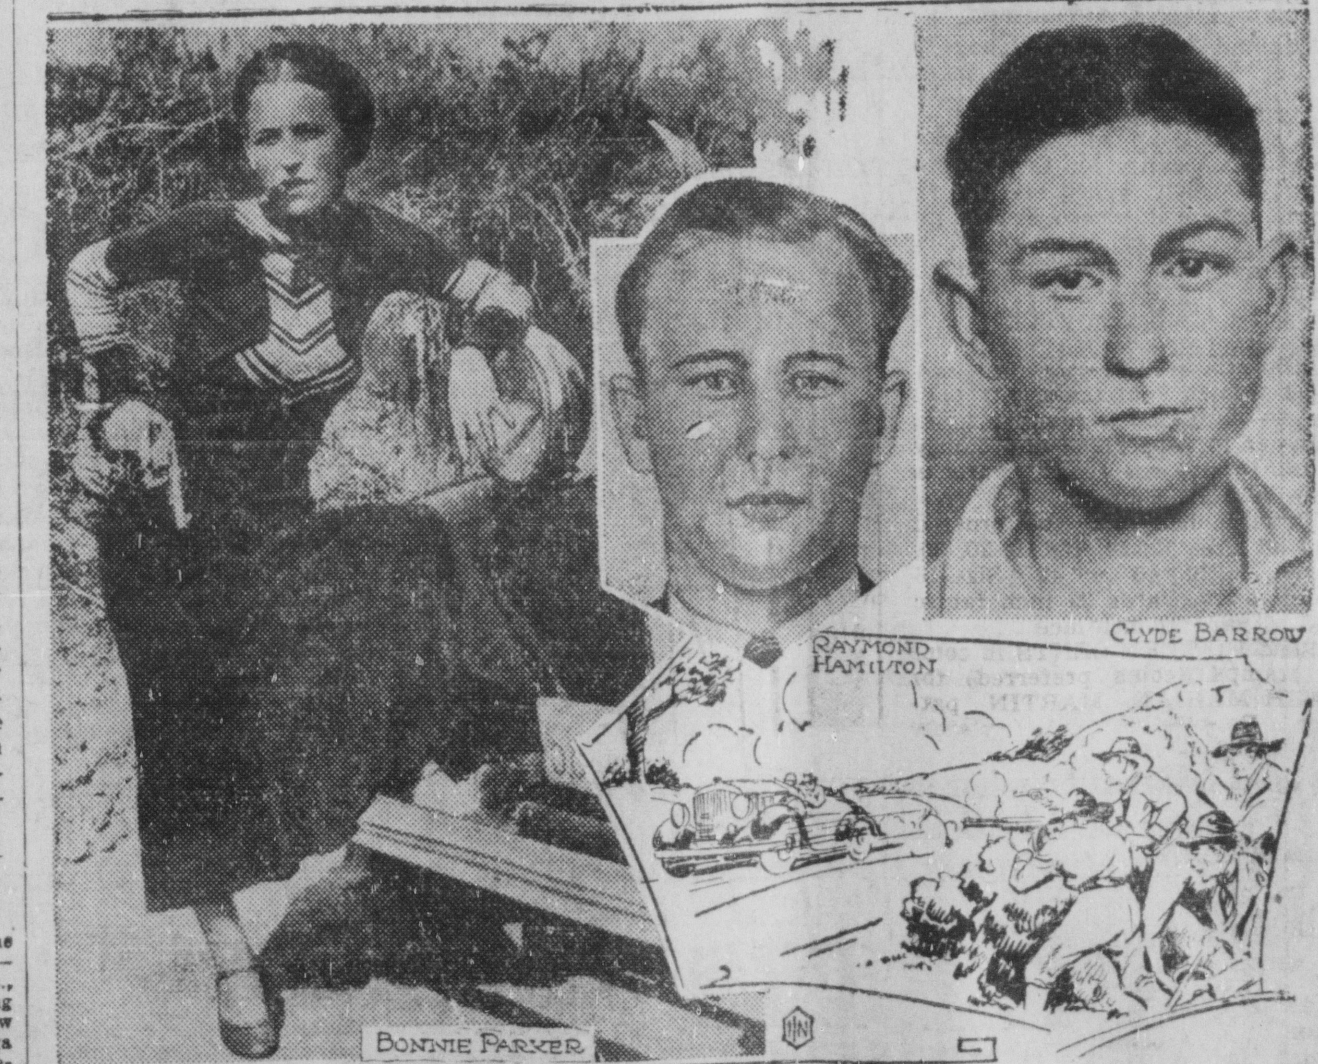

The service committee, headed by Frank Baker, and Solicitor Leist were appointed to investigate the claim of Pearl Gray, Lancaster-pk, for damages as a result of the new road being built past his property.

FINANCIAL REPORT

It will be necessary for continued economy to be practiced in the city administration if funds now on hand last until the next tax distribution. Ben H. Gordon, chairman of the council's finance committee, reported the following balances on hand June 1: general fund, $7,386.15; library fund, $2,194.28; auto license fund, $1,853.95; gasoline tax, $38.63; hospital, $3,346.79.

Before adjourning council discussed several sewer projects that have been requested in various parts of the city. No action was taken, however.

Parole Started Barrow on Trail of Blood

Leniency of the law, when he was paroled by Texas Governor Ross Sterling at the start of a 14-year sentence for automobile theft in 1932, gave Clyde Barrow the opportunity to start on a two-year trail of lawlessness that ended when he was killed with his cigar-smoking moll, Bonnie Parker, near Black Lake, La. During that two years, Barrow and Bonnie, with their accomplice, Raymond Hamilton, committed more than a dozen murders, one of which was enacted when Barrow rescued Hamilton from the State Prison at Huntsville, Tex. The trail of killings and bank robberies led through four States until Hamilton was caught in Texas and is now serving sentences totaling 362 years. Bonnie Parker has been associated with Barrow since his early days. She had formerly been married to Roy Harding, a gunman, now serving life for murder.

inch. Others thought more rain fell than this amount but Dr. Clarke declared it was entirely possible for more rain to fall in other parts of the city and county than fell on his property where the indicator is located.

The temperature prior to the rain was 92 degrees. It fell to 56 during the night.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Generous rains were washing the northern portion of the drought-ridden mid-continent wheat and corn belts today and forecasters were predicting even more general precipitation for the parched middle west.

The widespread rains brought high hopes for termination of the long-continued drought that has prostrated wide areas of the farm belt. At no time since the drought became acute on April 1 has the prospect of relief appeared so bright, weather forecasters said.

Comparatively heavy rains fell yesterday in Nebraska, the Dakotas, Iowa and Minnesota. Between one-half and one inch of precipitation was predicted for this area today W. P. Day, government meteorologist here, announced that the rain belt was moving into the southern section of the drought belt today.

The elements for widespread rainfall are fast being assembled in this part of the county," Day declared.

Day said a belt of cold air was moving southward from the Hudson bay region and when this meets the warm, moisture-laden air from the Gulf of Mexico general rain can be expected. The weather expert said he could not promise an end to the drought however.

Crops and pastures were still without relief in much of southern and central Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Indiana.

The pea pack started at the local Crites canning factory Saturday afternoon. The crop, due to the continued dry weather will be short.

One of the best rains since early summer visited this section Tuesday afternoon, and as a result all vegetation has taken on new life. George Brinker removed with his family to Circleville, Saturday, where he has a position with the Smith Mill company as traveling salesman for feeds.

WORKING GOOD

Another former Ashville boy is making good in the business world. Frank Hughes, who has been connected with the Columbus Chamber of Commerce for the past five years has secured a new job with the National Dairy Products Co., with headquarters in Cleveland. The young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Silos Hughes and spent his earlier years in Ashville where his father was section foreman of the Norfolk & Western railroad. The family moved to Columbus some 20 years ago.

L. O. Ebright and wife of Columbus were Sunday guests of Ashville relatives.

FLAMES SMOTHERED

The fire was brought under control with the aid of blankets of steam poured into the hold to smother the flames.

The vessel was 140 miles off Honolulu, about "eight hours from the Hawaiian group," when the fire broke out.

Two coast guard vessels were held in readiness at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, to proceed to the scene if necessary.

Capt. George W. Yardley of San Francisco, veteran skipper of the Dollar Steamship company, is in command of the President Lincoln. When the vessel arrived in Los Angeles May 25 from New York and Havana, 70 passengers disembarked. A total of sixty passengers boarded the liner at Los Angeles, bound for the Hawaiian islands and the Orient.

Among the 60 passengers were many from San Francisco. The San Francisco passengers journeyed to Los Angeles by train when Dollar line officials announced the President Lincoln would avoid this port, sailing directly from Los Angeles harbor, because of the longshoremen's strike.

PRICE POOR INDEX

Prices also is a "very unreliable" index of quality of not only canned goods but fresh fruit, according to Hauck. He revealed that the rural economists department had conducted an eight months' survey into canned and fresh vegetables. Samples from 54 retail stores were tested in the work and included peas, corn, tomatoes, snap beans, sauerkraut and red sour cherries purchased in both chain and independent grocery stores. He exonerated chain stores of allegations of some independent dealers that the former gave short weights in goods.

"We found that this statement is absolutely fallacious," he declared. "The variations in weight between chain store and independent goods were approximately the same and this was probably due to the carelessness of the clerk or inability to split units such as the potato."

Grading of the commodities studied was based on a numerical basis with grades ranging from 59 to 95 per cent perfect. They were tabulated on charts to give relationship between price and quality. In the latter connection, he expressed the belief that there would be greater restrictions on the labelling of goods after the canning code is effective. He said he would continue the survey throughout the summer.

MEAT VS. FEED GAME DELAYED BY ELEMENTS

To Play Friday Evening;

In Tonight's Fray.

The recreation ball game scheduled for Wednesday evening between the Eshelman Feeds and the McClarren Meats will be played Friday evening since wet grounds caused a postponement.

Tonight the Given Oils and Mecca restaurants are scheduled to take the field.

The Givens put up a good exhibition last Sunday against a Chillicothe team and should not be taken too lightly by the food-vendors.

Bob Jones and either Bill Hegele or George Vlerhome are to be the hurlers.

A meeting of managers is called for Friday immediately after the ball game to discuss plans for the benefit game for the family of Leroy Oliver on June 17. Tickets have been printed for the exhibition between the Container Corporation and the Columbus Golco Oil Co. teams.

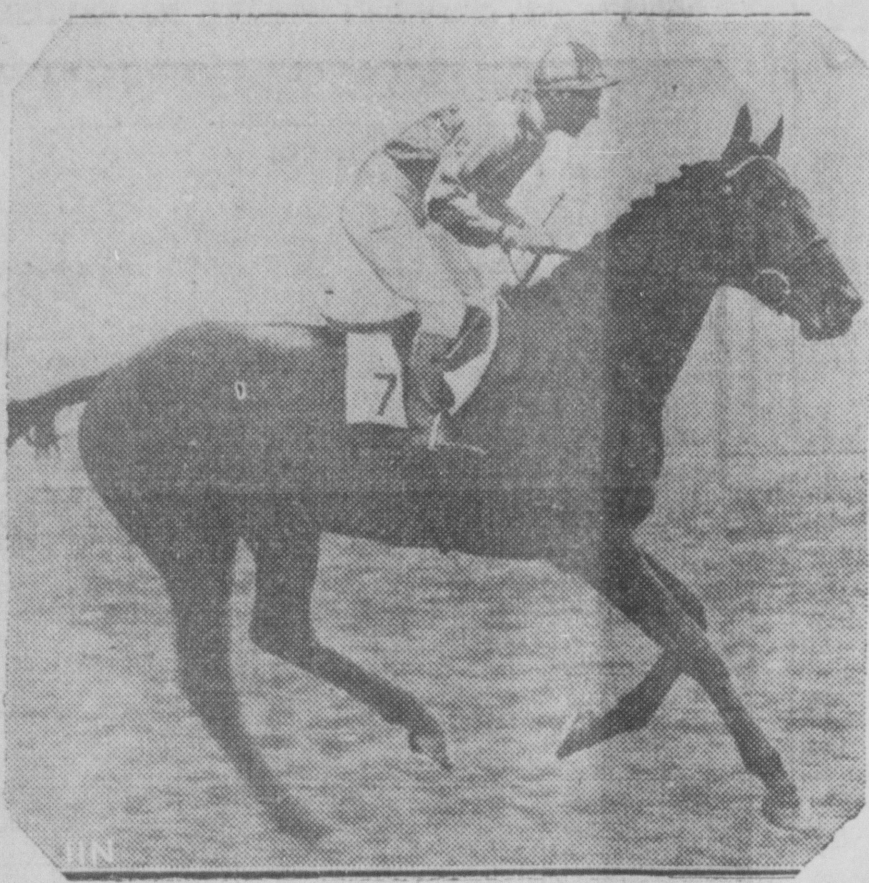

The tickets to sell for 25 cents each will be distributed to the various managers. An effort will be made to have all the tickets sold before the day of the game. It is imperative that all the league managers attend the meeting in The Herald office as several other matters may also be discussed.

BIRDIES TO RAISE 1933 A. A. PENNANT

COLUMBUS, June 7.—An event that Columbus and Central Ohio baseball fans have been awaiting for 26 years has been scheduled for June 26 by President George M. Trautman of the Columbus Baseball Club. On this date, the pennant emblematic of the 1933 championship of the American Association will be raised on the Red Bird flag pole with appropriate ceremonies.

Minneapolis is to open a four-game series in Columbus on that date with a night game. Flag-raising ceremonies are scheduled to start at 7:45 p. m. while the Miller Red Bird game will get under way under the floodlights at 8:30. National celebrities of the baseball world and sports field in general, state, county and city officials and dignitaries from many Ohio towns will be on hand for this special occasion. It is expected that each club in the American Association will be represented.

Appropriate music and a short fireworks display will accompany the flag raising.

The pleasure of Minneapolis in participating in this event will be a doubtful one. It was the Millers that battled the Red Birds down the home stretch for the pennant last year and later fought bitterly for the official title of "champion" in the post-season play-off.

The Columbus team is to end its present home stay with a night game against Indianapolis Thursday. Game time has been set at 8:30 p. m. and as an inducement to feminine fans, ladies' admission prices have been reduced. The Birds are to take to the road on June 8 for series with Toledo, Louisville and Indianapolis returning to their own stadium for an extended stay on June 19.

SINGLE BLOW SENDS TIGERS TO TOP RUNG

Gehring Gets Lone Hit Off
Weiland But It Wins In
Warm 2-1 Game.

NEW YORK, June 7.—One well placed hit, whether it be with fist, golf or baseball bat, something goes a long way toward determining a champion and today the Detroit Tigers are perched at the top of the American league standings because of a timely blow.

That one hit gave them the ball game over the Cleveland Indians 2 to 1 and lifted them to the top rung past the New York Yankees who split a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox.

Hitting has been one of the best things the Tigers have been doing recently as for example take the case of Outfielder "Goose" Goslin, who hit safely in 30 consecutive games. He was stopped by Bob Weiland yesterday but on one of his free walks, he scored when Gehring singled.

INFIELDERS HITTING
Back of Goslin's sensational hitting streak, which was the longest in either league this year, the Detroit club has had consistent wallowing with the willow by infielders, Greenberg, Rogell, Owen and Gehring. And this has helped them considerably in the climb upwards.

After pounding "Lefty" Grove from the hill in four innings the Yankees went on to win the first game from Boston 15 to 3, gathering 25 hits. They missed equaling their own record of scoring in every inning in a regulation nine inning game which they set back in 1923 against the Philadelphia Athletics, when Ben Chapman was retired in the ninth with men on base.

Carl Hubbel hung up his eighth victory of the season as he pitched the New York Giants to an easy 9-2 victory over the Boston Braves and into the leadership of the National league.

Routing Huck Betts with a five run attack in the first, the New Yorkers gave Hubbel something to work with, and as later events proved, he needed the margin near the end for he showed signs of tire-

By WILL ROGERS

SHOW people are always telling yarns about their kind, and so nacherly I hear quite a lot of them. This here one is about a circus actor, and of course they are the most romantic of all troupers.

The circus strong man rode out on horseback to challenge a farmer whose great strength had gained him a reputation. He entered the farmyard, tied up his horse and approached the farmer.

"Hey," he said. "I've heard a lot about you, and have come a long way to see which is the better man."

Without answering the farmer seized the intruder, hurled him bodily over the fence into the road and returned to his work.

When the loser had recovered his breath the farmer growled, "Have you anything more to say to me?"

"No," was the reply, "but perhaps you'll be good enough to throw me my horse."

TOLEDO FOR SALE
TOLEDO, June 7.—The Toledo Mud Hens of the American Association are open to all bidders, it was learned here today, and if a sale can be obtained soon enough, the team will not return to Toledo at the end of its eight-day road trip which starts tomorrow.

Walter Shank, president of the Toledo club, traveled to Chicago last night to confer with Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association, on the possibility of moving the team's franchise out of Toledo.

Although he announced the purpose of his trip before leaving the city, Shank refused to elaborate on his plans and also refused to indicate what city, if any, was in the market for an American Association franchise.

He said, however, that attendance at Mud Hen games in Toledo this season has been smaller than at St. Paul, whose officials also are contemplating moving their franchise.

About This And That

BY THE
SECOND GUESSER

THE FIRST CRY OF THE COLUMBUS Red Birds for help has been answered in the return of Terry Moore, curly-haired outfielder, who was sent to Elmira early in the season on a 24-hour recall agreement. * * * Moore will be on hand for the night game Thursday with Indianapolis. It is believed—just where he will play is not certain—If Indianapolis uses a left hander Moore will probably replace Gene Moore in left field, if it is a right hander he may take Hal Anderson's place in the middle garden. * * *

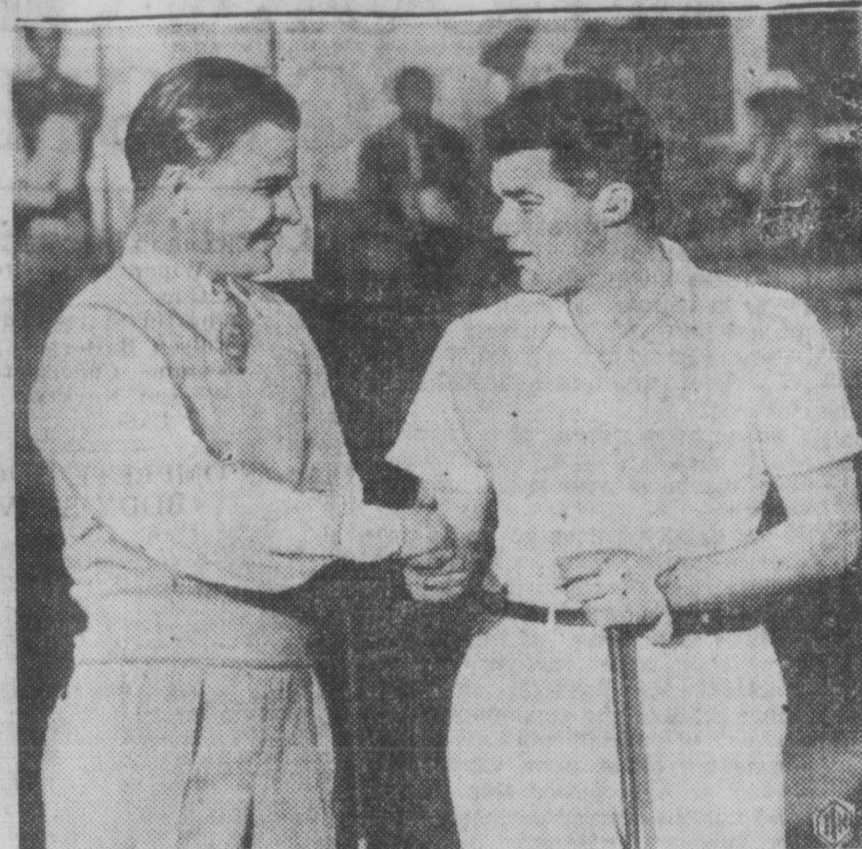

Races in three leagues are creating quite a lot of interest—In the association Minneapolis is three games ahead of Milwaukee, the Brewers being in second place—There are only six full games separating the Brewers from the cellar Louisville club—In the National loop the New York Giants are in first only four and one-half games ahead of the fifth place Boston Braves * * * In the American league the Detroit Tigers are on top the heap four full games ahead of the sixth place Boston Red Sox * * *

ANOTHER VETERAN GOES down the river, Flint Rhem to Syracuse in the INT—American Poli gives St. Paul one hit winning for Milwaukee, 1-0—Bob Weiland gives Detroit one hit and loses 2-1—Toledo wins its seventh straight game and is still in seventh place, but might close to third—Chicago Cubs score six runs in the 13th to win from St. Loo Cards—Billy Myers' home run gives the Birds a victory after a disastrous losing streak * * * And we were wrong about who the straw-board still has to play * * * The CC of A does not meet the Eshelman having beaten that team in the first week's games * * *

ing. Gyselman's triple scored Boston's two runs in the eighth.

The Pittsburgh Pirates swept through a double victory over the lowly Cincinnati Reds, winning the first 3 to 1 and the nightcap 5 to 1. The St. Louis Cards tumbled to second place in the league standings as a result of a 12 to 6 defeat handed them by the Chicago Cubs. Deadlocked at the end of the ninth, the two teams continued on to the twelfth when a weird batting netted the Cubs 6 runs.

Pair of Champs in Open

Fresh from his triumph in the British national amateur championships in Scotland, W. Lawson Little, of San Francisco, is greeted by Johnny Goodman (left) on his arrival at the Merion Golf Club course, Ardmore, Pa., to participate in the U. S. National Open, where Goodman is defending his title.

DERBY

COMMUNITY SHOCKED

This community was shocked Saturday morning by the news that on Friday evening about 10:30 Ernest Blessing had been killed and Charles Higgins very badly injured in a collision between their motorcycle and an automobile at Urbancrest. Charles was taken to Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, where he is at this writing in a very critical condition. Ernest's crushed and mangled body was first taken to Grove City and then to Ashville. He was brought to the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bauhan Saturday evening and his funeral was held there Monday at 2 p. m. with Rev. Ensley, Rev.

Ewing and Rev. Miller officiating.

Ernest had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Bauhan since the death of his mother in 1918, when he was only five years old. He was the son of John and Pearl Graham Blessing. He leaves his father, two sisters, Goldie and Helen and one brother, William, besides other relatives.

Some of those from a distance at the funeral were, John Blessing of Cincinnati; James Graham, Dayton; Charles Timmons and family, of Middletown; Ural Westfall and family, of Athens; William Blessing and family, Miss Marie Graham and Mrs. William Deyo, of Columbus.

Many were present from Sedalia, Mt. Sterling, Williamsport, Lancaster and this vicinity.

Miss Margaret Higgins, of

Athens, was called here on a count of her brother's accident. Mrs. Minnie Heath Thomas, of South Solon, was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Clara Bauhan that day.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Matthaei went to Athens Monday to attend the commencement at Ohio university, their son, Paul Eugene being one of the graduates. The daughter, Miss Frieda Matthaei, also accompanied them home, she having just finished two years of the college of education there.

Messrs. Robert Christianson, Bruce Ridgway, Arden and Mr. Yeakum spent last week camping at Derby creek.

The Epworth League held a weiner roast Tuesday evening last week at the home of Al Skinner.

Mrs. Evelyn Rosser and little daughter, Patricia, of Columbus spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Christianson.

The fourth quarterly conference of Darbyville-Derby circuit will be held at the Derby M. E. church Monday evening with Rev. D. McClure in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinnie Bauhan and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bauhan motored to Springfield Wednesday to see Mrs. Charles Deyo who was very sick. Mrs. Deyo died Sunday night and her funeral was held at Derby M. E. church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Deyo formerly resided here.

The Darby-Twp. Sunday school convention will be held at Greel land church next Sunday at 2 p. m. Let's as many as possible attend and make it interesting. We need these educational conferences to help us do our best work in the best way. Be a booster for everything that is uplifting.

This is the second in a series on the AAA. A Merry-Go-Rounder got an AAA. In his first article he reported on the influence needed and on the "efficiency" of the famed night shift.

AAA Nightshift Scenes of Pathos, Laziness, Waste

WASHINGTON—There is only one class of workers on the AAA night shift which does not sleep a good part of the night. This is the Civil Service group, most of them elderly ladies who have spent their lives working for the Government.

But even they, having not nearly enough work to do, spend a good part of their time chatting or reading books.

The one exception to this rule is a little old lady whose waking moments are so rare as to cause comment. For some reason, never properly explained, she is nicknamed after the First Lady of the Land. And on those occasions when she does rub her eyes and look around, someone is sure to nudge someone else and with an air of surprise exclaim:

"Mrs. Roosevelt's awake now." Between the Civil Service workers and practically everyone else on the AAA night shift there is open bitter rivalry. This is especially true of the home-town politicians who have come to Washington to make a name for themselves.

Pathos

Most of them are middle-aged, bald-headed old-fashioned fellows wearing heavy watch chains, celluloid collars, clothes that are much too hot for Washington summers, and who try to look important but actually appear pathetically timid. Arriving in Washington armed with letters from the home-town political bosses, they expect to get a foreign legation or at least land a commission on the Federal Trade Commission. Instead they are shoved off on the night shift of the AAA at $1,440 a year with the promise: "Just take this temporary job until we can find something better."

Most of them would do more work if they could, and make overtures to the Civil Service workers to teach them the ropes. But the latter, knowing that their only salvation is the ignorance of their colleagues, are as communicative as Chesapeake oysters. The Civil Service workers come chiefly from Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia, but despite their much higher efficiency they are being weeded out rapidly. Most dismissals are given without the required thirty day notice.

Another clique within itself is made up of college boys, most of them going to George Washington, Georgetown or any of the other half dozen universities in the capital, who keep themselves awake flirting with pretty girls or studying. They set the high-water mark for inefficiency. Some have allowances from home, which together with their government pay, permits them to drive to work in their own roadsters.

One night three of them were arrested in an automobile mix-up when supposed to be on duty at the AAA.

Indifference

The final AAA clique consists of former Census Bureau workers, who know all the routine of punch cards, tabulating machines, and sorting machines which reduce human labor to minimum. Because of this many of them have been elevated to the exalted rank of assistant supervisors, at $2,000 a year thereby earning the right to strut around the room, lean on the desks of pretty girls, talk learnedly with the supervisor and in general display an exaggerated ego.

The most amazing thing about these assistant supervisors is their callousness regarding mistakes. Frequent errors are made by the tabulating machines in calculating the amounts of money due to farmers. One mistake of $50, called to the attention of an assistant supervisor, brought the reply: "We're not supposed to get

Report Dunlap in Congressional Contest, Mrs. Lutz After Recorder's Job, and Short Running for Auditor; Bohnert to Remain Out of Politics, Friends Declare.

With only eight days remaining for candidates to file their nominating petitions, the Pickaway-co political field is becoming quite crowded. More activity was reported today than in a long while with the following developments:

"King's" Henchman

This genial gentleman apparently believes in what he preaches—if the smile counts for anything. He is the Rev. Gerald K. Smith, former Shreveport, La., pastor, who is chief organizer for Senator Huey Long's "Share-the-Wealth" Clubs, the aim of which is the equal distribution of wealth.

YOUTHS SLAIN IN HILL FEUD

Kentucky Scene of Bloody Battle; Third Dying In Clan Warfare.

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., June 7.—Smoldering feud feeling broke out between two families gathered in a clearing on a mountain top in the remote Brown Branch neighborhood 19 miles from here and when the flareup was ended two youths lay dead and another dying.

Eighteen from the Brown and the Gray families fought in the furious clan battle, according to meagre reports reaching here today. Guns, knives and fists were used by the mountaineers. One Brown was stabbed to death and Lester Gray was fatally shot. Another Brown was reported dying from knife wounds. All three were under 20 years old, it was reported.

Thirteen of the warring factions were taken into custody for questioning and a probable appearance before the grand jury here.

DOCTOR HOPEFUL FOR FIVE BABIES

More Optimistic of Their Surviving as Tenth Day Passes; Chance Still Small.

CALLANDER, Ontario, June 7.—The quintuplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Olive Dionne were 10 days old this morning at four o'clock.

The little infants whose lives have been despaired of day after day during their 240-hours of struggle were reported to be showing visible improvement by Dr. A. R. Dafeo who has astounded the civilized medical world by keeping the children alive. At midnight, Dr. Dafeo after visiting the children in their humble quarters two and one-half miles east of here declared: "The kids are doing 'danged' well."

"They shouldn't be living at all but they are living and are improving."

The doctor's statement was the most optimistic one he has made since their birth 10 days ago. In fact where the doctor has refused to give the babies more than a 500 to 1 chance to live, last night he said: "Maybe they will live... maybe. They still have a long way to go but we are trying everything we can to keep life in their little bodies."

TRAIL OF NAPOLEON ROBBER DISAPPEARS

PLAN LIGHT ACTION

Odors From Hargus Creek May Be Righted.

Increased finances in two branches of the city government, Berger hospital and the mayor's office, received commendatory statements from council members Wednesday evening when that body held its first meeting in June.

The hospital reported collections during the month totalling $1,737.37 the largest since the institution opened for business. Miss Ethel Kirchofer, superintendent, attributed the large sum to several bills being paid through the Ohio Industrial commission.

This amount turned into the city treasury is believed several hundred dollars greater than in any other months in the hospital's existence.

$103.70 FROM CADY
President of Council John C. Goeller commended the report of Mayor W. B. Cady that he collected $103.80 during May. Of this amount $81 was in fines, $14 in licenses and $8.70 in fees.

The largest part of the fine money was the result of arrest of traffic violators, the mayor said. No business of great importance was transacted at the meeting although numerous items of more than passing interest were legislated.

Council recommended the traffic light at Court and Main-sts. be burned 24 hours daily after Mayor Cady requested this action be done since there have been several accidents at the busy intersection, after the light has been turned off at midnight. It will be necessary

HITS MILLER AIDES

Civil Actions Brought Against Officers

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Details of how a constable and two aides conducted a midnight raid on an automobile in a lonely road, allegedly dragging two women from the car by force, were being unfolded before a Franklin-co criminal court jury of nine men and three women today.

On trial were Constable C. B. Moore, and his two aides, Morris Hanna and Erton Temple. They were charged with "injuring, defrauding and oppressing under color of office."

Complaining witnesses were Stad Bescher, his attractive wife, Clara, and a pretty blonde, Miss Louise Keys. Bescher from the witness stand alleged that the men stopped his car which was moving slowly and dragged his wife and Miss Keys from the car.

COSTS OVER $19
The officers also used profane language, he said. Bescher related that he was arraigned in a justice of the peace court at Shadeville, south of here, at daybreak and assessed costs of more than $19.

A number of local persons have had experience in the court of the honorable Mr. Miller and his constables. One has reported a fine of $1 and costs of over $19. Several have been arrested when the veracity of charges was extremely doubtful.

COLUMBUS, June 7.—A justice of the peace and his constable were under fire in the Franklin-co civil courts here today.

FDR DRAWN NEAR IMPENDING STRIKE

WASHINGTON, June 7.—President Roosevelt was drawn more closely into the threatened steel strike today when Secretary of Labor Perkins agreed to present the workers' grievances to the executive.

This agreement followed a meeting of steel union leaders with Miss Perkins and Edward E. McGrady, assistant labor secretary and labor adviser to the NRA. It was learned that Secretary Perkins also asked the department of justice for a comprehensive report on the Pittsburgh steel district.

Every precaution was being taken by deputy sheriffs and Norwood police to prevent serious, prolonged rioting.

It was the second time in the past month that strikes at Ohio industrial plants have been marked by shootings. At Toledo, two men were shot and killed and others wounded in rioting at the Electric Auto-Lite plant two weeks ago.

MAN, 28, INJURED
Warren Maxwell, 28, was shot down in the latest outbreak at the Remington-Rand plant. Two persons were shot by the angry mob of 400 then gathered at the plant when 325 workers left the shops.

Maxwell was shot in the leg. His condition is not serious. McCord Conrad, a foreman at the plant, admitted the shooting, declaring that he fired two shots into the air and then one into the crowd when it surged toward him. He was charged with shooting with intent to wound and released under $200 bond.

According to authorities, the Remington-Rand plant will close at noon today to forestall renewed outbreaks of violence. Two automobiles also were towed and seriously damaged yesterday but the occupants escaped without hurt.

Drouth Area Receives Aid With Downpour

The grim spectre of drouth was temporarily ended here today after a heavy rainfall amounting to more than half an inch, Wednesday evening. HAUCK IN ATTACK ON PRICES, LABELS ON CANNED GOODS

Says Quality Cannot Be Determined By Either; Code Effective Monday.

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Asserting that the quality of canned goods could not be determined by either labels or prices, Charles W. "Labels as basis for choosing a certain brand of canned goods are unreliable," declared the economist. "Quite often there is just as good quality in a can of good bearing no high claim for the contents as

HEARTS TO SING JUNE 10

Flowers for the 'Shut-Ins' 250-000 in this land, on June 10th, is the goal of the florists of the U. S. On this day the florists' cash registers will be silent for flowers to the 'Shut-Ins' are free.

Mary Pickford, 'America's Sweetheart', and Walter Winchell have been boosting this movement which was inaugurated last year.

Fat Folks Lose Weight - Feel Fine

Lose Fat This Summer—Keep Cool—Look and Feel Younger.

Mrs. Jessie Martin of San Francisco is happy because she has discovered the right, safe way to reduce—read her letter:

"I have taken Kruschen Salts a month and find great benefit. I have lost 14 lbs. in that time and would lose more if I stuck to a diet as I should. I take them every morning regular and hope others will profit by them as I have."

We have letters from men and women who have lost as much as 100 pounds of fat—from people who have reduced high blood pressure—from folks who have no more bloating or shortness of breath.

Kruschen helps stomach, liver, bowels to function properly—increases physical attractiveness all while losing unhealthy fat. Just take a half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—get it at Hamilton & Ryan's and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

and was such a success.

It is the aim of the florists' members of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery association to see that flowers are sent on this day to 'Shut-Ins' in their community.

Brehmer Greenhouses are assuming the duty to see that all 'Shut-Ins' inside the city limits of Circleville receive flowers.

They will appreciate the assistance of everyone who will report persons who are confined to their homes on account of sickness, injury, or infirmities. Telephone or drop a card with the name and address of the 'Shut-In' and the florist will do the rest.

Every 'Shut-In' whose name was obtained through the efforts of Walter Winchell will receive a memento of the National Flower 'Shut-In' Day that he will cherish and proudly show his friends.

It is a card with the written message of Winchell on one side and a message from the F. T. D. on the other. Winchell's message reads: "It gave me great pleasure to find your name for the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association so that these fragrant blooms may bring you cheer and speed your recovery on National Flower 'Shut-In' Day. Your New York Correspondent, Walter Winchell."

In part the F. T. D. message on the reverse side of the card reads: "These flowers will not have lived in vain if they bring you one ray of the sunshine in which they grew—one breath of the fragrance from the world that is blooming out of doors."

Similar cards are being prepared to send to 'Shut-Ins' whose names are secured through the broadcasts of Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumit, radio stars.

If the reader knows of any 'Shut-In', please report it to this newspaper office or to Brehmer Greenhouses.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbar, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 2 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may look you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McIlburn Co.

FLETCHER TO HEAD REPUBLICAN FORCES

CHICAGO, June 7.—Henry P. Fletcher, Pennsylvania diplomat, embarked today on uncharted seas in an effort to bring back prestige lost by his Republican party.

Fletcher, nominated by Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Pennsylvania, received 67 votes of the 92 cast. John D. M. Hamilton,

WASHINGTON, June 7.—“A fine selection, but I wish it had been someone from further west.”

That was the comment today of Senator Simon Pess (R) of Ohio, on the selection of Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, as Chairman and Chief spokesman for the Republican party.

committeeman from Kansas, received 25 votes. Hamilton, the only other nominee, immediately moved to make Fletcher's selection unanimous.

Senator Reed worked with the Charles D. Hiles sub-committee in drafting the declaration of principles, and the Pennsylvania platform and later the Pennsylvania candidate for chairman was ratified by the committee.

Some solace was accorded the west by the naming of Phil W.

HENRY P. FLETCHER

Collins, legationaire of Illinois, and Hamilton to important posts in the national committee. Hamilton was given the post of party counsel left vacant by the death of James F. Burke of Pennsylvania. Collins is likely to be named to a new position, “director of organization.”

There was practically no opposition to the appointment of Chairman Fletcher, who served under Theodore Roosevelt in the rough riders and who served on foreign missions under President Harding. Coolidge and Hoover. Fletcher was considered satisfactory to the so-called Hoover bloc and the committee wired its greetings to the former president.

The G. O. P. pronouncement, drafted by the easterners but approved by all sections, declares that the Republican party is liberal, but it makes it clear that it is not radical.

WHAT the STARSSAY

Your opportunity for personal astrologic advice by R. Frederic Kane.

In just exactly 26,000 years the planets will again be in the same relative positions as they are at this moment. That being the case, how can you expect to receive any benefit from astrology unless you have a horoscope cast for the exact moment of your birth? To give astrologic information and advice from no better birth data than that of the day of the month on which you were born, is in the opinion of this writer, hardly a less crime than that of obtaining money under false pretense.

No scientific and honest astro-

loger would ever read the horoscope of two persons the same way although they had been born on the same day as near as two hours apart. If you want real help from astrology you must by all means have a horoscope cast for the moment of your birth.

Very few persons know the exact moment of their birth, some do not even know the right date of their birth but if they are sure of the date they can rest assured that a real astrologer can by certain methods of calculation and checking, ascertain the exact moment when birth occurred or at least the normal period for the day. If you are not certain of the exact moment of birth give the astrologer the dates of important events in your life, such as deaths in the family, or accidents to yourself. When he has found a time which will check up with the events in the past he will be able to tell you when future events are likely to occur. Never ask an astrologer foolish questions. If you are not serious do not bother him. It is only the serious affairs of life which are plainly indicated in your horoscope.

If you have something of a serious nature—a problem which you would like help on at this time, send your question with the price of six months subscription to The Herald office and you will receive in addition to the daily delivery of The Herald to your home, the answer to your question absolutely free.

PLYMOUTH REDUCES

DETROIT, June 7.—Price reductions up to $45 on Plymouth cars were announced here today by B. E. Hutchinson, chairman of the Board of the Plymouth Motor Corporation. The new price structure now gives Plymouth a base price of $485 at the factory. Plymouth is now $20 to $40 lower in price than comparable models of any other car with so-called knee type, or individual springs. "Our record production for this year makes it possible for us to offer these low prices," Mr. Hutchinson stated, in announcing the reduction. "During the first four months of this year, Plymouth production was more than two and one-half times as many cars as in the same period last year. Our last week's sales reports show a gain in retail sales of 26.5 per cent over the same period of a year ago."

McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors
Operate Perfectly on
NO. 1 FURNACE DISTILLATE

INVESTIGATION shows that the widely known oil companies now market a No. 1 Furnace Distillate which makes a very satisfactory fuel for McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors. The use of this clean, low-priced fuel results in a considerable saving over the cost of kerosene.

However, it is well to remember that No. 1 Furnace Distillate is only one of a number of grades of furnace oil on the market. The tractor owner who buys furnace oil haphazardly runs the chance of getting a poorer grade, which does not measure up to No. 1 standards. For your information and guidance, specifications of a No. 1 Furnace Distillate suitable for use in McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors are included in this advertisement.

Tests prove that the number of cylinders or the type of engine used in a tractor have nothing at all to do with the success or failure of furnace distillate as a tractor fuel. Experience shows, however, that multi-cylinder engines produce a smooth flow of flexible power that lengthens tractor life, improves traction, and reduces driver fatigue. Think over these facts when you need a new tractor. McCormick-Deering Kerosene Tractors have modern 4-cylinder, valve-in-head engines of the most efficient vertical type.

No. 1. Furnace Distillate should measure Up to These Specifications:
Specific gravity, maximum .85 at 60 degrees F.
Flash . . . 180 degrees F. maximum.
10 per cent distilled off at 420 degrees F. maximum.
90 per cent distilled off at 560 degrees F.
End point not to exceed 600 degrees F.
Water and sediment not to exceed 0.05 per cent.

SCAN OUTLOOK FOR CROPS IN DROUGHT

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Farming observers speculated today on this question—

What effect will the government's crop reduction program have on agricultural production in Ohio this year, now that the drought—something that wasn't reckoned with when the government launched its program, designed to bring production nearer the domestic consumption figure—has entered into the picture.

No estimates are available as yet, but agricultural experts are pretty well agreed that the production depends upon whether or not the present drought continues. The next few weeks will tell the story, they say.

CUT PRODUCTION

"When the government started out its program of reducing production in the leading crops—wheat, corn, tobacco, hogs, and sugar beets in northwestern Ohio, it hoped to bring production to the consumption basis," said Professor H. C. Ramsower, head of the Agricultural Extension Service at Ohio State University.

"Now, if the drought continues, production will be further reduced, perhaps to a much lower figure than the department of agriculture expected.

"There always is a large carry-over in wheat," he said. "But that is not true of the other major crops. In wheat, we could stand a serious reduction and still have enough."

Ramsower raised the question as to what effect a further reduction will have upon prices of farm goods.

"Normally, prices go up as production goes down, but then too, prices react in conformity to consumption demand," he stated.

"There is no way of predicting now what effect further crop reduction would have on the ultimate price to the consumer."

Lack of rainfall has had a very damaging effect upon wheat and grass, on oats sowed this spring, and has interfered seriously with the farmer's attempt to plant corn, Ramsower said. July rainfall is generally considered to be the chief factor in the corn crop, he said, and it is likely that the rainfall during the next month will determine more than anything else Ohio's crop prospects for 1934.

REDUCTION CITED

The various phases of the crop reduction program in Ohio have cut down wheat production (the spring harvest) about five per cent; corn, 20 per cent; hogs, 25 per cent; and cigar leaf tobacco, 40 per cent, he estimated.

Great Expectations

Relaxing after a whirlwind campaign, Mrs. Bertha Petty, widow of the late George M. Petty, has been granted $6,500 the maximum allowance under the Workman's compensation act, for the death of her husband. Mr. Petty died at his home here Nov. 7, 1933, as the result of an injury received while assisting in loading some hogs on a truck belonging to W. H. Plum & Son, local stock dealers.

FLORIST KILLED

MT. VERNON, June 7.—Charles E. Sharp, 65, well-known Mt. Vernon florist, died in a hospital here today from injuries received last night in an accident while he was delivering a truck-load of flowers to a funeral.

The accident, in which Sharp's truck collided with a car operated by Gus Coleman of Danville, occurred at a "blind road intersection" near Danville, east of here. Coleman was slightly injured in the smash-up.

BONNIE PARKER

CLYDE BARROW

Parole Started Barrow on Trail of Blood

Leniency of the law, when he was paroled by Texas Governor Ross Sterling at the start of a 14-year sentence for automobile theft in 1932, gave Clyde Barrow the opportunity to start on a two-year trail of lawlessness that ended when he was killed with his cigar-smoking moll, Bonnie Parker, near Black Lake, La. During that two years, Barrow and Bonnie, with their accomplice, Raymond Hamilton, committed more than a dozen murders, one of which was enacted when Barrow rescued Hamilton from the State Prison farm at Huntsville, Tex. The trail of killings and bank robberies stretched through four states until Hamilton was caught in Texas and is now serving sentences totaling 362 years. Bonnie Parker has been associated with Barrow since his early days. She had formerly been married to Roy Harding, a gunman, now serving life for murder.

ASHVILLE

Donaldson of North Ashville, is seriously ill with whooping cough and is threatened with pneumonia.

PEA PACK STARTED

The pea pack started at the local Crites cannery factory Saturday afternoon. The crop, due to the continued dry weather will be short.

One of the best rains since early summer visited this section Tuesday afternoon, and as a result all vegetation has taken on new life.

George Brinker removed with his family to Circleville, Saturday, where he has a position with the Smith Mill company as traveling salesman for feeds.

WORKING GOOD

Another former Ashville boy is making good in the business world. Frank Hughes, who has been connected with the Columbus Chamber of Commerce for the past five years has secured a new job with the National Dairy Products Co., with headquarters in Cleveland.

The young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hughes and spent his earlier years in Ashville where his father was section foreman of the Norfolk & Western railroad. The family moved to Columbus some 20 years ago.

L. O. Ebright and wife of Columbus were Sunday guests of Ashville relatives.

inch. Others thought more rain fell than this amount but Dr. Clarke declared it was entirely possible for more rain to fall in other parts of the city and county than fell on his property where the indicator is located.

The temperature prior to the rain was 92 degrees. It fell to 56 during the night.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Generous rains were washing the northern portion of the drought-ridden mid-continent wheat and corn belts to-day and forecasters were predicting even more general precipitation for the parched middle west.

The widespread rains brought high hopes for termination of the long-continued drought that has prostrated wide areas of the farm belt. At no time since the drought became acute on April 1 has the prospect of relief appeared so bright, weather forecasters said.

Comparatively heavy rains fell yesterday in Nebraska, the Dakotas, Iowa and Minnesota. Between one-half and one inch of precipitation was predicted for this area today.

W. P. Day, government meteorologist here, announced that the rain belt was moving into the southern section of the drought belt today.

The elements for widespread rainfall are fast being assembled in this part of the county," Day declared.

Day said a belt of cold air was moving southward from the Hudson bay region and when this meets the warm, moisture-laden air from the Gulf of Mexico general rain can be expected.

The weather expert said he could not promise an end to the drought however.

Crops and pastures were still without relief in much of southern and central Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Indiana.

FLAMES SMOTHERED
The fire was brought under control with the aid of blankets of steam poured into the hold to smother the flames.

The vessel was 140 miles off Honolulu, about "eight hours from the Hawaiian group," when the fire broke out.

Two coast guard vessels were held in readiness at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, to proceed to the scene if necessary.

Capt. George W. Yardley of San Francisco, veteran skipper of the Dollar Steamship company, is in command of the President Lincoln.

When the vessel arrived in Los Angeles May 25 from New York and Havana, 70 passengers disembarked. A total of sixty passengers boarded the liner at Los Angeles, bound for the Hawaiian islands and the Orient.

Among the 60 passengers were many from San Francisco. The San Francisco passengers journeyed to Los Angeles by train when Dollar line officials announced the President Lincoln would avoid this port, sailing directly from Los Angeles harbor, because of the longshoremen's strike.

PRICE POOR INDEX
Prices also is a "very unreliable" index of quality of not only canned goods but fresh fruit, according to Hauck. He revealed that the rural economists department had conducted an eight months' survey into canned and fresh vegetables.

Samples from 54 retail stores were tested in the work and included peas, corn, tomatoes, snap beans, sauerkraut and red sour cherries purchased in both chain and independent grocery stores.

He exaggerated chain stores' allegations of some independent dealers that the former gave short weights in goods.

"We found that this statement is absolutely fallacious, he declared. "The variations in weight between chain store and independent goods were approximately the same and this was probably due to the carelessness of the clerk or inability to split units such as the potato."

Grading of the commodities studied was based on a numerical basis with grades ranging from 59 to 95 per cent perfect. They were tabulated on charts to give relationship between price and quality.

In the latter connection, he expressed the belief that there would be greater restrictions on the labelling of goods after the canning code is effective.

He said he would continue the survey throughout the summer.

MEAT VS. FEED GAME DELAYED BY ELEMENTS

To Play Friday Evening;
Given Oils, Meccas Tangle
In Tonight's Fray.

The recreation ball game scheduled for Wednesday evening between the Eshelman Feeds and the McClarren Meats will be played Friday evening since wet grounds caused a postponement.

Tonight the Given Oils and Meccas restaurants are scheduled to take the field.

The Givens put up a good exhibition last Sunday against a Chichester team and should not be taken too lightly by the road-venders.

Bob Jones and either Bill Hegele or George Vlerhome are to be the hurlers.

A meeting of managers is called for Friday immediately after the ball game to discuss plans for the benefit game for the family of Leroy Oliver on June 17. Tickets have been printed for the exhibition between the Container Corporation and the Columbus Golco Oil Co. teams.

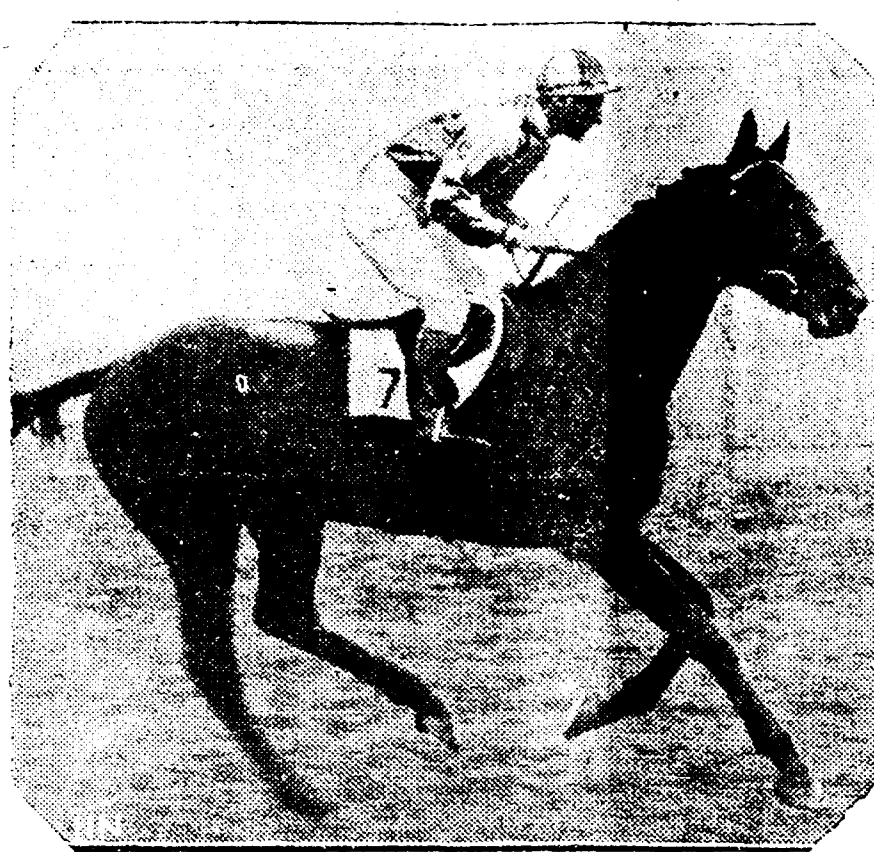

The tickets to sell for 25 cents each will be distributed to the various managers. An effort will be made to have all the tickets sold before the day of the game. It is imperative that all the league managers attend the meeting in The Herald office as several other matters may also be discussed.

Regimental Gold is a Red Light. The Selby horse, sire of the filly, is one of the widest known performers in the country having been shown and undefeated in many sections of the nation.

BIRDIES TO RAISE 1933 A. A. PENNANT

COLUMBUS, June 7.—An event that Columbus and Central Ohio baseball fans have been awaiting for 26 years has been scheduled for June 26 by President George M. Trautman of the Columbus Baseball Club. On this date, the pennant emblematic of the 1933 championship of the American Association will be raised on the Red Bird flag pole with appropriate ceremonies.

Minneapolis is to open a four-game series in Columbus on that date with a night game. Flag-raising ceremonies are scheduled to start at 7:45 p. m. while the Miller-Red Bird game will get under way under the floodlights at 8:30. National celebrities of the baseball world and sports field in general, state, county and city officials and dignitaries from many Ohio towns will be on hand for this special occasion. It is expected that each club in the American Association will be represented.

Appropriate music and a short fireworks display will accompany the flag raising.

The pleasure of Minneapolis in participating in this event will be a doubtful one. It was the Millers that battled the Red Birds down the home stretch for the pennant last year and later fought bitterly for the official title of "champion" in the post-season play-off.

The Columbus team is to end its present home stay with a night game against Indianapolis Thursday. Game time has been set at 8:30 p. m. and as an inducement to feminine fans, ladies' admission prices have been reduced. The Birds are to take to the road on June 8 for series with Toledo, Louisville and Indianapolis returning to their own stadium for an extended stay on June 19.

SINGLE BLOW SENDS TIGERS TO TOP RUNG

Gehringer Gets Lone Hit Off
Weiland But It Wins In
Warm 2-1 Game.

NEW YORK, June 7.—One well placed hit, whether it be with fist, golf or baseball bat, something goes a long way toward determining a champion and today the Detroit Tigers are perched at the top of the American league standings because of a timely blow.

That one hit gave them the ball game over the Cleveland Indians 2 to 1 and lifted them to the top rung past the New York Yankees who split a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox.

Hitting has been one of the best things the Tigers have been doing recently as for example take the case of Outfielder "Goose" Goslin, who hit safely in 30 consecutive games. He was stopped by Bob Weiland yesterday but on one of his free walks, he scored when Gehringer singled.

INFELDERS HITTING

Back of Goslin's sensational hitting streak, which was the longest in either league this year, the Detroit club has had consistent walling with the willow by infielders Greenberg, Fogel, Owen and Gehringer. And this has helped them considerably in the climb upwards.

After pounding "Lefty" Grove from the hill in four innings the Yankees went on to win the first game from Boston 15 to 3, gathering 25 hits. They missed equaling their own record of scoring in every inning in a regulation nine inning game which they set back in 1923 against the Philadelphia Athletics, when Ben Chapman was retired in the ninth with men on base.

Carl Hubbell hung up his eighth victory of the season as he pitched the New York Giants to an easy 6-2 victory over the Boston Braves and into the leadership of the National league.

Routing Huck Betts with a five run attack in the first, the New Yorkers gave Hubbell something to work with, and as later events proved, he needed the margin near the end for he showed signs of tiring.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

SHOW people are always telling yarns about their kind, and so nacherly I hear quite a lot of them. This here one is about a circus actor, and of course they are the most romantic of all troupers.

The circus strong man rode out on horseback to challenge a farmer whose great strength had gained him a reputation. He entered the farmyard, tied up his horse and approached the farmer.

"Hey," he said, "I've heard a lot about you, and have come a long way to see which is the better man."

Without answering the farmer seized the intruder, hurled him bodily over the fence into the road and returned to his work.

When the loser had recovered his breath the farmer growled, "Have you anything more to say to me?"

"No," was the reply, "but perhaps you'll be good enough to throw me my horse."

About This And That

BY THE
SECOND GUESSER

THE FIRST CRY OF THE COLUMBUS Red Birds for help has been answered in the return of Terry Moore, curly-haired outfielder, who was sent to Elmira early in the season on a 24-hour recall agreement. * * * Moore will be on hand for the night game Thursday with Indianapolis, it is believed. Just where he will play is not certain. If Indianapolis uses a left hander Moore will probably replace Gene Moore in left field, if it's a right hander he may take Hal Anderson's place in the middle garden. * * *

Races in three leagues are creating quite a lot of interest. In the association Minneapolis is three games ahead of Milwaukee, the Brewers being in second place. There are only six full games separating the Brewers from the cellar Louisville club. In the National loop the New York Giants are in first only four and one-half games ahead of the fifth place Boston Braves. * * * In the American league the Detroit Tigers are on top the heap four full games ahead of the sixth place Boston Red Sox. * * *

ANOTHER VETERAN GOES down the river. Flint Rhem to Syracuse in the INT-American Polli gives St. Paul one hit winning for Milwaukee, 1-0. Bob Weiland gives Detroit one hit and loses 2-1. Toledo wins its seventh straight game and is still in seventh place, but might close to third—Chicago Cubs score six runs in the 13th to win from St. Louis. Billy Myers' home run gives the Cardinals a victory after a disastrous losing streak. * * * And we were wrong about who the straw-board still has to play. * * * The CC of A does not meet the Eschelman's having beaten that team in the first week's games. * * *

Gyselman's triple scored Boston's two runs in the eighth.

The Pittsburgh Pirates swept through a double victory over the lowly Cincinnati Reds, winning the first 3 to 1 and the nightcap 5 to 1.

The St. Louis Cards tumbled to second place in the league standings as a result of a 12 to 6 defeat handed them by the Chicago Cubs. Deadlocked at the end of the ninth, the two teams continued on to the twelfth when a weird batting netted the Cubs 6 runs.

COMMUNITY SHOCKED

This community was shocked Saturday morning by the news that on Friday evening about 10:30 Ernest Blessing had been killed and Charles Higgins very badly injured in a collision between their motorcycle and an automobile at Urbancrest. Charles was taken to Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, where he is at this writing in a very critical condition. Ernest's crushed and mangled body was first taken to Grove City and then to Ashville. He was brought to the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bauhan Saturday evening and his funeral was held there Monday at 2 p. m. with Rev. Ensley, Rev.

Kwing and Rev. Miller officiating.

Ernest had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Bauhan since the death of his mother in 1918, when he was only five years old. He was the son of John and Pearl Graham Blessing. He leaves his father, two sisters, Goldie and Helen and one brother, William, besides other relatives.

Some of those from a distance at the funeral were, John Blessing of Cincinnati; James Graham, Dayton; Charles Timmons and family, of Middletown; Ural Westfall and family, of Athens; William Blessing and family, Miss Marie Graham and Mrs. William Deyo, of Columbus.

Many were present from Sedalia, Mt. Sterling, Williamsport, Lancaster and this vicinity.

Miss Margaret Higgins, of

Athens, was called here on a count of her brother's accident.

Mrs. Minnie Heath Thomas, of South Solon, was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Clara Bauhan today.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Matthes went to Athens Monday to attend the commencement of Ohio university, their son, Paul Eugene, being one of the graduates. The daughter, Miss Frieda Matthes, also accompanied them home, having just finished two years of the college of education there.

Messrs. Robert Christianson, Bruce Ridgway, Arden and M. Younkum spent last week camping at Darby creek.

The Epworth League held a weiner roast Tuesday evening last week at the home of Al Skinner.

Mrs. Evelyn Rosser and litt daughter, Patricia, of Columbus spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Christianson.

The fourth quarterly conference of Darbyville-Derby circuit was held at the Derby M. E. church Monday evening with Rev. D. McClure in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinnie Bauhan and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bauhan motored to Springfield Wednesday to see Mrs. Charles Deyo who was very sick. Mrs. Deyo died Sunday night and her funeral was held at Derby M. E. church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Deyo formerly resided here.

The Darby-Twp. Sunday school convention will be held at Greenland church next Sunday at 2 p. m. Let's as many as possible attend and make it interesting. We need these educational conferences to help us do our best work in the best way. Be a booster for everything that is uplifting.

TOLEDO FOR SALE

TOLEDO, June 7. The Toledo Mud Hens of the American Association are open to all bidders, it was learned here today, and if a sale can be obtained soon enough, the team will not return to Toledo at the end of its eight-day road trip which starts tomorrow.

Walter Shank, president of the Toledo club, traveled to Chicago last night to confer with Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association, on the possibility of moving the team's franchise out of Toledo.

Although he announced the purpose of his trip before leaving the city, Shank refused to elaborate on his plans and also refused to indicate what city, if any, was in the market for an American Association franchise.

He said, however, that attendance at Mud Hen games in Toledo this season has been smaller than at St. Paul, whose officials also are contemplating moving their franchise.

WHAT A TIRE! WHAT A TIRE!

See it here! Goodyear test drivers burned out brakes—wracked cars—pounded the roads night and day—and it kept its grip twice as long as other tires!

IF YOU think the non-skid tread on your present tires wore out too soon—you're right!

Ordinary treads can't stand the strain of modern driving.

But come in today and see a tire that will!

The new "G-3" All-Weather! It has a wider tread—flatter tread—more rubber in the tread—more non-skid blocks in the center of the tread—and gives 43% longer non-skid mileage than the best previous Goodyear All-Weather.

No matter what car you drive—no matter how you drive—this tire will give you more miles of safety—AT NO EXTRA COST!

WARNING!

Watch the rest of the industry try to copy this amazing tire. Watch them try to duplicate Goodyear's claims. But, remember, you have to have "non-skid" before you can have "non-skid mileage." And to have "non-skid," you have to have GRIP where you see it here—GRIP in the center of the tread—the place where it counts, because it's the spot where the tire contacts the road. Look at the grip on this Goodyear Tire and ask yourself why buy any tire that lacks this safety? And keep in mind that you cannot successfully build this type of non-skid tire without the extra durability of Supertwist cords.
